McAuley Terrace

Independent Retirement Living

Located in a quiet, tree-lined neighborhood, McAuley Terrace offers retired adults care-free living. Combining a casual, comfortable atmosphere along with 24-hour access to staff and emergency services, McAuley Terrace is designed to offer independent living at its best.

Location makes all the difference

Nestled amongst the neighborhoods in Johnston, Iowa, McAuley Terrace is located within walking distance of shopping, banks, post office, pharmacies and restaurants. Located on a beautifully landscaped 10 acre campus, McAuley Terrace features such amenities as a beauty/barber shop, fitness area, billiard room and a community dining room. You have the opportunity to participate in a wide variety of organized activities designed to enhance your mental, physical, spiritual and social well being. Transportation for shopping excursions to malls and grocery stores is provided on a regular basis. Recreational outings are also scheduled for the resident's enjoyment.

Peace of mind

No more worrying about house maintenance. That's just one of the many care-free benefits offered.

You'll feel safe and secure in your apartment thanks to an emergency call system, offering 24-hour access to staff and emergency services. After hours, you control building access to visitors right from your own apartment.

Health care services are easily accessible. McAuley Terrace is affiliated with Martina Place Assisted Living and Bishop Drumm Care Center – both of which are located on the campus. Through this unique affiliation, all residents of McAuley Terrace receive priority admission to the care center if the need should arise. Additionally, depending on the entrance option residents select, many McAuley Terrace residents are eligible for ten days of free care and discounted rates at Bishop Drumm Care Center should this attention be required.
